A WORLD BEATER

The Riverside Will be When Contemplated Improvements

ARE ENTIRELY COMPLETED

Recently Acquired Land Gives a River Frontage of a Mile—Boggs Run to be Covered, and its Outlet to be Through an Immense Tunnel. Two new Blast Furnaces, Coke Plant and Other Improvements.

When the additions to the Riverside Iron works now contemplated are built, this plant will be without a peer, and will hold the honors as the largest and best equipped tube-making plant in the world. The improvements are of an extensive character, and will entail a vast outlay of money, and while the plans for the new mills have not been given out to the public, the Intelligencer has information bearing pretty close to the bull's eye.

During the past twelve months the Riverside has been acquiring considerable land in Upper Benwood, and the purchases were continued after the mill went into the National Tube Company, the tube combine. As has been stated before, the acquisition included Whiteman's Grove and a stretch of vacant land along the river front, extending to Gilleland's glue factory, while options were taken on tenanted property on the Jacob street extension, in the vicinity of Whiteman's, and in many cases the options resulted in sales. The Riverside now possesses ground, the southern extremity of which is at Schad's crossing, with an unbroken river front for nearly a mile in length. The fact of the company buying up the North Benwood property resulted in many rumors as to what disposition was to be made of it, and as the Intelligencer has heretofore announced, many people centered on a blast furnace and a steel mill. It now comes from an apparently authoritative source that the new mills will consist of two blast furnaces, a coke plant of 205 ovens and a water works, a steel mill not being certain.

Last week the contract for the erection of part of the new additions was let in Pittsburgh, which is the manufacturing headquarters of the National Tube Company, and presided over by Vice President Frank J. Hearne.

The preliminary work is due to begin next month. Some of the ground around Boggs' Run has to be filled in and the company has been engaged on this to a more or less extent for some time.

An interesting feature of the improvements will be the stone arch to be built over Boggs' Run, extending from the Baltimore & Ohio tracks to the river. The arch will form a tunnel, through which the waters of the run can find their way to the river. A stone wall 245 feet in length is another feature. The run thus covered will make available much excellent building ground. New railroad switches are to follow as soon as the improved conditions materialize.
 The magnitude of the Riverside's "expansion" plans in these piping times of prosperity can be realized when it is stated that it is now erecting its second coke plant, adjoining the one which was completed a year ago at a cost of $250,000. Like the original, it will have a battery of sixty ovens. Owing to the reticence of the management the character of the new mills to be erected on its recently purchased ground, north of the plant, will not be known until they are in operation practically, but the outline as given will be found to be there or thereabouts.

Fine Upright Piano for About One-half its Value.

Milligan, Wilkin & Co. are offering a fine, new upright piano for $150.00, which is about one-half its regular price. This is done in order to sell off the stock quickly and vacate the present building. They are also offering other bargains which no one can afford to miss. This is the chance of a lifetime to buy a piano.
 Remember the place—Milligan, Wilkin & Co.'s old stand, 1138 Market street. The store will be open in the evenings.

Dunlap Hat Opening.

I will open on Friday, September 1, a full line of Dunlap's latest fall block of silks and durbys and soft hats; also a full line of the Guyer hats and all the other leading makes and shapes.
